

Banned Cargoes & Theft Attractive Goods (TAG)

Banned Cargoes

Bullion (gold, silver or platinum in the form of bars or ingots)

Precious metals (gold, silver, platinum in other forms)

Precious stones

Jewellery

Watches

Firearms & ammunition

Works of Art

Antiques

Furniture removals and storage (eg. household furniture, clothing, equipment and other personal effects belonging to a private individual, or family)

Live animals

Mobile telephones & components

SIM cards and computer chips

Processed Tobacco (including cigarettes or cigars)

Live vaccines

Unpacked Meat Products

Bottled Spirits (where the value exceeds £250k, per full load, including duties)

Theft Attractive Goods (TAG), whose value per full load exceeds £2.5mill

Regulated Dangerous Goods, in the following Classes:

Class 1 Explosives - excluding 1.4S (UN 0432)

Class 2.3 Toxic / Corrosive Gases

Class 6.2 Infectious Substances

Class 7 Radioactive Materials

Under strict controls it may be possible to transport some of the above cargoes eg. regulated dangerous goods, class 2.3, however this must be agreed in advance with your Director.

Theft Attractive Goods (TAG)

The following goods are classified as theft attractive (TAG), if their total value does not exceed £2.5 million, however they must be carried in strict accordance with the Company High Value Goods policy and procedures.

Bottled Spirits (where the value per load does not exceed £250k, including duties)

Designer Clothing & Footwear

Perfumes and cosmetics

Razor blades

Computers & accessories

Domestic audio visual equipment (eg. hi-fis, TV sets etc)

Domestic electrical appliances (not including 'white goods', such as refrigerators, washing machines etc)

Clocks

Photographic equipment (eg. cameras, photocopiers etc)

Consumer batteries

Non-ferrous metals (eg. nickel, copper). The only exception is Aluminium, which can be carried as general goods.

Please can you ensure that all staff taking bookings are made aware of these lists and notify their Manager if they are offered such loads.